11:30 AM – 1:00 PM

Presentation:

What are the Biggest Mistakes that Small Remodeling Businesses Make?

Speaker:

Michael Sandner, Shareholder, Pickrel, Schaeffer and Ebeling

Speaker Bio:

A shareholder with the firm, Mike represents individuals and businesses with issues involving consumer, construction, insurance and commercial disputes.

Mike understands how construction and business disputes can jeopardize profits as well as important business relationships. He strives to provide efficient and effective legal advice that protects his clients current and long term interests while maintaining the business relationship necessary to benefit all parties involved. He has experience handling all aspects of disputes from negotiation, mediation, arbitration, through to litigation, and appeal. He has had significant success handling a wide range of issues including collections, leases, zoning, contracts, insurance coverage, tort construction and property valuation matters.

In the area of insurance law, Mike has extensive experience in evaluating insurance policies and coverage issues to effectively leverage the role of insurance in dispute resolution.

Description:

How often has this happened to you? Your crew is coming in for the night from working on a project and they say something like, “by the way the homeowner had us change the type of tile in the bathroom.” Do you and/or your onsite lead know what do it if the homeowner wants to make changes after the original contract has been finalized? Join us over lunch on Tuesday, December 11, 2018 as Michael Sandner of Pickrel, Schaeffer and Ebeling shares with you his expertise and knowledge when it comes to the legal side of the remodeling industry.
